VOL. XVII. WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1898. No. 17

THOMAS H. WRIGHT, ESQ.—A Commoner of the people.—See 4th page.

Paymaster John R. Lynch,
as he appeared before the Texas
Rangers.—See 4th page.

THEY SAY

Things are getting warm.

The Virginia campaign is at fever heat.

What will the politicians in Maryland do now?

The Congressional campaign committee will be taught a lesson or two.

Good men are coming to the front by degrees.

The masonics in the District are divided.

It is very convenient for some men to bring scandals to a close.

It is always in good taste to close your mouth when you are defeated.

Some papers never cease personal attacks until they are thrashed.

The American ought to give itself a rest.

The BEE is loaded from top to bottom.

The Bethel Literary ought to be renovated and purged of its tramps.

Is Sarah Lewis to remain at Garnet school?

Mr. Cook will exercise his authority.

The public schools will lose one of their best teachers.

It is a shame and it should not be.

There was a big Jones ratification meeting at Petersburg, last Monday night.

Speak the truth it generally pays in the long run.

Who will be the new city postmaster?

Will the President continue to ignore District republicans?

Let us have a show by all means.

Col. Harries will continue to do business at the same old stand.

We often make mistakes, and who is it that doesn't make them?

Somebody will be made to know their place.

Some new teachers are needed in our High school.

It is in need of a reorganization.

The great mistake among the school officials is in the appointment of bad timber in our High school.

The unveiling of Douglass statute was an imposing event.

Some people think that a wise look give them a dignified appearance.

We often see proper men's statutes, but they are dumb shows sometimes.

Some people have no more business of being placed in positions of power and trust than a bird has to has to be placed at a sewing machine and told to stitch.

There is too much sentiment in our public schools.

There should be some harmony in our public schools.

Do you want a live paper, if so read the BEE.

The Maryland republicans are after Mudd.

Don't be too hasty in deciding questions.

Be sure and hear both sides before you come to a conclusion.

Dressing is an art and should be taught in the sewing school.

The public schools are looking for a new sewing directress.

If you are honest you need to have no fear.

The world is on the eve of a great political revolution.

Do you think it is wise to meddle with other people's business.

Speak well of your friends it will result in good.

The weather has changed from warm to cool.

Some people make changes just as sudden at times.

If our public schools could be placed upon a high basis no doubt the people would be satisfied.

The Police Court should have a colored bailiff.

The Congressional committee needs funds.

Caution!—There have recently been issued several cheap reprints of the 1847 edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, an edition long since superannuated. These books are given various names,—"Webster's Unabridged," "The Great Webster's Dictionary," "Webster's Big Dictionary," "Webster's Encyclopedic Dictionary," etc., etc.
Many announcements concerning them are very misleading, as the body of each, from A to Z, is 44 years old, and printed from cheap plates made by photographing the old pages.

THE WHITE SOLDIER.

The carnival of disorder which made San Francisco, Cal, the scene of debauch and murder on the 15th instant was not prominently mentioned by our enterprising contemporary the Post. It may be that so simple a matter as one brutal murder and fifty arrests for drunkenness, assault and battery and the reckless use of fire arms committed by white soldiers, all ocurring in one day, was of too small moment to justify publication. In this, the Post has undergone a most radical change. Hitherto every minor incident which could be heard of which reflected upon the colored soldier was elaborated into monumental proportions and commended upon with blighting vehemence and vigor. The object seemed to have been to show to the skeptical reader that the colored soldier was without respect for honor or discipline and a hinderance rather than a help to the army, pledged to the extension of principles of humanity and incidentally of territory. It now appears that the fine-tooth comb of discrimination can no further serve the Post in its crusade against the colored soldier and hence its editorial now is classed to the degrading incidents touching the conduct of soldiers. But perhaps the editor of the Post is too loyal to the southern policy of belittling the colored man and extravagantly landing the southern gentleman, to expose the incident referred to. The murderer who shot down in cold blood a comrade was a regimental hospital steward in a Tennesse regiment while a majority of the brawlees and bulldozers who were arrested were members of the same company. The judge in sentencing one of the law-breakers, spoke in part as follows: "The members of your regiment have taken the advantage of the kindness of San Franciscans to insult and persecute them. They are a pest and a nuisance in this community. I do not include all of the Tennesse regiment in this assertion, but many of them appear to be rowdies and blackguards who have acted as if they could do anything they like." Had the San Francisco papers been as chary about publishing the misconduct of white soldiers as the Post has been, the public would have been misled into the belief that the white soldier was the exception to the rule and that they were at all times and under all circumstances the orderly, gentlemanly and patriotic soldiers the Post would have us believe. If the Post had taken the same pains to ascertain and publish the numerous crimes and misdemeanors committed in the various white camps that it has those alleged to have been committed by colored troops, it would be found that the white soldiers far outstripped his dusky comrade in all that tends to cast a blot on the name of American citizenship and valor. The much vaunted claim that the southern soldier is a gentleman by instinct and conduct finds a most positive contradiction in the many brawls and crimes which they have from time to time committed. We call the attention of the public to this recen incident in order to show that in all regiments white and black, will be found men who are instinctively bad and further that the southern soldier measures up in this respect to an extent equal to or greater than his northern competitor or black comrade. Although the southern press may feel disposed to cover up the degrading incidents participated in by southern soldiers we are proud to know that the northern press is disposed to condemn and expose crime by whomsoever committed without being blinded by race or sectional prejudice.

THAT FLY.

The armies have met in deadly combat, have capitulated, have retired to their respective homes. The results of the war have been gratifying to this country and things are jostling down to their normal condition. The scandals and bickerings, the tales of woe and suffering which have been going the rounds and settling on the War Department have now been quieted by the wonderful discoveries of the scientific investigators into the causes of the spread of typhoid fever and their consequent direful effects. There was a time when it was the mosquito, the vampire or the bee to whose buzz and sting and bite might be referred the bulk of human suffering and even the spread of disease.

Now things have changed. The innocent harmles fly, the erstwhile benefactor of the race, the health preserver, the helpful scavenger, has by the aid of the microcope and the acumen of the scientist been declared to be the cause of the spread of disease and wholly responsible for the fearful disease and mortality in the camps.

The clash of arms, the dynamite bomb, the Mauser bullet, the krupp are but pigmies compared with the dreadful destructiveness of the fly. The fly was the ally of Spain. It decimated our ranks by its insidious spread of the germs of disease. Had not the fly been born typhoid fever would have been but a temporar yand easy affair and no such thing as a contagion would disturb the health of the community. The War Department is not responsible for the spread of disease in the camps. It was the fly. It made the hard tack musty. It prevented clothing from being properly distributed. It inspired the victorious army and frenzied and frightened the retreating foe. It is the cause of Spain's humiliation and the American's success. The war was conducted by flies. In fact there would have been no war or disease or famine had it not been for the all pervading pestiferous, warlike fly. Verily the fly did it.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

If there ever was a sham enacted by Congress, it is this alleged civil service law, which seems to operate to suit the conveniences and likes of every administration. The many thousand white and colored republicans who were turned out of office by Mr. Cleveland are still pressing bricks. What does it mean? Does President McKinley think for a moment that these republicans will support him for reelection? Almost 60 per cent of the late army appointments went to the South and that too among men who have been inimical to the negro. The negro wants the administration to understand that he is no longer a coward. The time will soon come when the President will regret this civil service sham.

ROOSEVELT'S DEFEAT PREDICTED.

It is the general opinion among the New York politicians that Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, if nominated, will be defeated. While it is true, that he is a great political reformer it has made him unpopular in New York, notwithstanding the fact, that he went to Santiago to fight the Spaniards.

TRIMMERS.

There are among the colored people of this country self-styled leaders, who have by chance won the confidence of certain white men in office, which has enabled them to obtain official recognition. This recognition has been brought about by a systematic mode of trimming in politics. That is, they have won by grinning and playing the servant and vacating the places they have been elected to and placing white men in them. The last presidential election demonstrated this fact, particularly in some of the southern States. These trimmers and apologists were made to believe that the white politician could do more for the negro than the colored representative who was placed in power by the suffrages of the negro voters. But, how mistaken they were and what fools and dupes they have been made.

In the State of Virginia where the negro voters constitute four-fifths of the republican party, the white party leaders are at the head of the State machine and when a distribution of federal patronage took place, these negro trimmers and apologits were given the back seats, they still occupy them. Not one colored representative has been appointed to a position in the State of Virginia. There is now a negro revolt in the State and there is no telling where it will end.

In Texas, the late N. E. Cuney was turned down by a set of negro trimmers, and now they are calling for a leader, like the lamented Cuney. He has not been found yet. C. M. Ferguson and his followers were hanging around this city for over a year pouring coals of fire and condemnation upon the head of the Administration and in the same breath declared that President McKinley would never secure another Texas delegation in his interest by any more broken promises. The situation in North Carolina is quite different. Senator Pritchard made the deal for that State and so far the promises have been carried out. It is partly so in Louisiania. Ex-Senator Demas has been made a victim of, although he is one among the many who is brave enough to demand what is justly due him. Men who are 99 times more guilty than Demas have been confirmed by the Senate. We ought not to be surprised, because Demas is a negro and aside from the opposition he received from white men, he had members of his own race to combat.

Until these trimmers and apologists are gotten rid of so long will the race be given back seats.

THE PRESIDENT'S MISTAKE.

We are unable to tell the person who is advising the President, relative to District patronage and the systematic ignoring of our national committeeman, who has on all occasions been the foremost man and in fact, the only man to raise funds for all presidential candidates. Our committeeman has not been consulted like other republicans in the State. The question is being asked on all sides, why is our national committeeman not consulted when District appointments are being made? He is a representative republican who will have the support of all loyal republicans when the time comes to send representatives to the next presidential convention. The President is making a grave mistake in the selection of District men without consulting our representative. We have not had up to date, one representative colored man appointed to any thing under the District government. Is this right or just to men who have carried the republican banner so long?

THE BEE commends the letter of Mrs. Rosetta-Douglass Sprague, in the New York Age. Mrs. Sprgue as well as the children of the late Mr. Douglass should have something to say as to where the remains of Mr. Douglass should rest. This scheme to make money out of an allege Douglass museum at Cedar Hill, Anacostia, should be condemned by thoughtful people.

THE NEW YORK COLORED VOTE.

The colored republicans in the State of New York, have expressed their dissatisfaction with the party by joining the Tammany organization. All over the country there seems to be a great deal of dissatisfaction among the colored voters. The kindness that has been manifested by that organization toward the colored voters in the State of New York, by recognizing them in the distribution of patronage has endeared those voters to that party.

REVOLT OF THE NEGRO VOTERS.

From the Indianapolis, (Ind.,) World.

Under the above caption, we reproduce an article from the WASHINGTON BEE, which is well worth reading as it is in the nature of a new departure. Brother Chase, editor of the BEE, is evidently getting his eyes open and sees the hand-writing on the wall. The negro race is no longer to be the goods and chattels of one particular party. They will no longer, like the Gibeonites of old, remain hewers of wood and drawers of water for self-appointed taskmasters. As the race grows, becomes educated, learns to read for itself and think for itself, in chafes under its leading strings and longs to assert itself. It was inevitable that a change would come sooner or later. All thoughtful observers foresaw this and now the signs of the times times plainly point it out to most careless lookeron. The time has come for the negro to divide on lines of principle and policy and to be tied up in a knot by legends, traditions and race environments. He has found out that he is a man and a citizen, and as such must think and act for himself instead of running to some boss to get his cue. In such a condition of affairs it is natural that negroes will not consent to an unnatural political alignment on strictly racial lines. He will look around and select his party associates according as they agree or disagree with him on the various questions of local, state or national government.

He will not deem it to be his duty to be a republican because his father was such. Nor will he be afraid to become a democrat because of inherited prejudice against that party. If after examination, he prefers the republican politics, he will and ought to be a republican. If, on the contrary, he likes the principales advocated by the democrats he will join that party. But he will not necessarily be a republican because he is a negro or refuse to be a democrat for the same reason. He will see the folly of being "born in a party," as if it were a matter of religion, and will discover that parties are means to an end and not the end itself and that they are assemblages of men thinking alike on certain questions of governmental policy and cooperating together to carry them out.

There can be no such thing as traditional politics. Politics is a matter for today, for the needs of the passing hour. The party you cooperate with one, two or more years ago may not fill the bill at all for you as you see it today. On the contrary, the party which you once opposed and even hated may, at the present time, represent all the things which you want most. In other words, it is a matter for the exercise of judgment and not mere sentiment that should govern a man in selecting his political associates. It is purely a business matter and not a sentimental affair.

There are special reasons why no race should be perpetually huddled up in one political party. Our institutions can't be run successfully in class or race lines. We don't want a party made up of Jews or Gentiles, or Irish or Germans or Catholics or Protestants. All classes, creeds, races and beliefs should join their parties as individuals and as sects or guilds. Otherwise we should have all the evils of tyranny of race over race, church over church, creed over creed.

When the members of a race or religion are scattered among all parties, will be anxious to protect its members and will be free from a desire to persecute them as a class. The rights of all will be subserved, not on account of their private beliefs but because they are American citizens. Race prejudice and religious prejudice are curses to any nation. They have been the causes of untold horrors and centuries of misery and persecution. The Irish question is unsolvable when all the Irish are on one side and all the English on the other. This causes the battle of Boyne to be fought over at every recurring anniversary for hundreds of years. But when the parties are made up of Irish and English indiscriminately, contending not on race or religious lines, but solely on a political basis, then there is hope of a just settlement. The latter was the plan of the great Gladstone and it made an immense improvement over the old Dennybrook fair style of cracking heads every time Englishmen and Irishmen met.

Similarly, the American negro must demand his rights, not through one party, but all parties. This will be done by acting for measures rather than for men, for principle instead of inherited sentiment always on common sense lines instead of by passion and impulse. Rest assured that every political party will protect its own voters and do all it can to retain their good will. Any other course means destruction. Therefore when the members of a race are scattered among all the parties, none of them can afford to indulge in measures for the oppression of a race as a race. It will be a happy hour for the negro race when they all learn to think, act and vote independently on the merits of every question as it comes up. That, in the opinion of The World, is the prime factor that is to finally solve the much mooted race problem.

A BRILLIANT CAREER OF A WASHINGTONIAN.

A COMMONER OF THE PEOPLE—GREATER HONORS IN STORE.

Thomas H. Wright, the commoner, (as he has been styled by his friends,) our very earnest and able trustee of public schools, needs no introduction to the Washington public. He is well known to all classes and in all sections of the city as an accomplished, influential, public-spirited Christain gentleman From Lincoln's time when he became the confidential clerk to the District Marshal, to the present time, he has maintained an unsullied reputation for honesty, integrity of purpose, race-pride and marked ability. He is a product of Washington's environments pure and simple. In his capacity as employe of the government, he expresses what is possible to every honest, persevering and studious colored man, namely: that of becoming a thoroughly competent and highly efficient public officer. He was appointed in the Attorney General's Office in 1870 and has advance step by step until he is now occupying next to the highest clerical grade and is entrusted with business of the greatest public importance.

He is custodian of the dockets of the Court of Claims as well as of all of the briefs, pleadings and evidencé prepared by the various Attorneys General in their important cases. He has become so conversant with the rules of practice and methods of procedure of the Court of Claims that he is frequently consulted and highly respected by the leading members of the bar. Frank, unassuming, gentlemanly yet positive. Mr. Wright has demonsrated the power which can be wielded in liberalizing sentiment regarding the merit and adaptability of the colored man as a public officer. Nor is it as a public officer merely that Mr. Wright has made himself felt. He is an ardent and indefatigable church and Sunday school worker. Succeeding his father as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Methodist church and as superintendent of its large Sunday school, Mr. Wright gave evidence of his executive, administrative and resourceful ability and organizing power. Perhaps in no sphere have his strong personality and eminent abilties been more emphasized than in that of Odd Fellowship. Initiated into the Order in 1870 through Mount Olive Lodge No. 1333, he at once became a power in disseminating the principles of the Order and stimulating its growth in and about Washington, The exponent and example of Love, Friendship and Truth, he soon rose into prominence in theOrder. He has been the "advocate" of his lodge ever since that office was established. He was a delegate to the A. M. C., in 1879. He was a delegate to the B. M. C., which met at Philadelphia in 1886 and chairman of the Washington delegation. At this meeting he was selected as a member of the Committee of Management and has handed down many important opinions touching the law and other matters relating to the Order.

He was a leading figure and took a prominent part in the general meeting held in this city in 1892 and became chairman of its most important committees. He was a delegate to the annual meeting recently held at Indianapolis, Ind., was selected orator of day, and delivered a masterful oration. The subject which was "Aims and purposes of Odd Fellowship," was treated so eloquently and forcefully that to this day the "brethren" speak of it as one the "classics" of the Order.

It is not strange that the name of Mr. Wright become talismanic when the question of Grand Master came up for consideration. His consistent and progressive career offered the strongest reasons to his friends why he should be urged as Grand Master of the Order. A movement was inaugurated looking toward that end, but Mr. Wright positively, but gracefully declined in favor of his friend James C. Needham, who who elected. Mr. Wright was made president of the Hall Association, the object being to build an Odd Fellows Hall in Washington, such as would be a becoming testimony to the power and progressive spirit of the Order, and as a result, through his energy, integrity, unwavering fidelity, acumen, practical executive, administrative and business capacity, devotion wishing to posess the most costly and beautiful Odd Fellows Hall in the country. We are not aware of Mr. Wright's ambition as to preferment in the Order, but if ability devotion the underlying principles of the Order, fidelity to friends and duty, long service, rectitude and piety are potent elements which enter into the consideration of a Grand Master, the subject of this short sketch will be the next Grand Master and Washington city as well as the entire country will be proud to honor him. It is needless here to speak of Mr. Wright as a trustee of public schools in this city. The fact that this city furnishes the only system of colored schools conducted on a large scale by colored teachers and officers is sufficient to show the very high estimation in which Mr. Wright is held here. Thus far, he has demonstrated the wisdom of selecting school officers who have ability and who have the courage of their convictions. His home, his character and his conduct are consistently pure and Washington high and low, rich and poor, black and white will be proud to honor him in his office as Grand Master.

PAYMASTER LYNCH.

AS HE APPEARED BEFORE THE TEXAS RANGERS.

This is the Hon. John R. Lynch, paymaster in the United States volunteer army. This is the position the Texas Rangers saw him in, at the time he was reviewing them, prior to paying them off. Mr. Lynch was objectionable to them because he was a colored man and because these men were impressed with the idea the they were better than Mr. Lynch.

Mr. Lynch has made an acceptable paymaster. He has proved himself competent, honest and reliable. He is an honor to the race to which he is identified and no man is entitled to greater consideration and respect than Mr. Lynch.

COPORAL CONN.

Communicated.

The only knowledge respecting the the behavior of the colored regular at the front during the battle of Santiago, July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, is obtained merely through letters and shattered descriptions, the boys themselves have managed to write.

The versatile pen of Corporal John R. Conn of troop H 24th U. S. Infantry, has won universal admiration because of its tenor.

Mr. Conn, while at the front, vividly discourses the bravery and the reckless daring exhibited by his regiment those three days of unrivaled action at El Caney and San Juan.

The Evening Star of last Saturday prints a letter of recent date from Mr. Conn. It is read with great interest. The BEE readily concieves why the war correspondents failed in their dispatches to the press, to mention the bravery of the U. S. Regular. The daring of Roosevelt's Rough Riders would have been questioned and credence would have established the fact that the 71st New York, were not the nation's defenders, but its gusts. Little consideration, howevr, is paid to such a statement and the same is totally ignored, moreover it is falsely evidenced through shrewed diplomacy. that the colored regiments merely fought, making timely advances at the command of their respective officers. The BEE observes more than this. Regardless of command and all else, charge after charge was made by our boys and with a soldierly discretion. They drove the Spaniards from their blockhouse, and trenches. Now they are in sight of Santiago that is soon to surrender. This incalcuable service is only worthy of fragmentry praisee and no matter how laudable the ambition, how daring the exploit, the colored regulars vanish before his own deeds and blushes at the injustice of the superior agencies.

Editor E. W. Wimberly of the Augusta, Ga., Union, was the guest of Register J. W. Lyons this week.

Mrs Geo. H. Lee and daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Burwell have returned to the city from Fortress Monroe.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the county than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address.

ROYAL BLUE TRAINS.

In September last, railway officials from London were sent to America, to get ideas on the railway passenger service of the leading lines in this country, and in their official report, which was printed in the London Times in January, it was stated that the "Royal Blue Line" series of magnificent passenger trains, running between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, lead the world for quick and exquisite train service.

The "Royal Blue Line" service consists of nine elegant passenger trains a day in each direction between the cities named above. They are the finest and fastest trains in the world. Their equipment was built especially for the service by the Pullman Company, and includes every modern convenience known for the comfort of passengers. The trains are vestibuled from end to end, and hauled by the strongest and fastest locomotives in the United States.

The exquisite day coaches of these trains are worthy of special note. They are beautifully upholstered, each containing a washroom and smoking compartment.

The parlor cars are the most palatial ever built, being fully seventy-three feet long. In addition to this service, three new parlor cars were added in April, and are the first of this kind ever run; they are richly upholstered and ornamented throughout in most beautiful designs. A ladies' retiring-room is provided in one end of the car. This room, which is six feet square, is furnished with a beautiful dresser with large mirror and a number of drawers. On each side of it are upholstered corner seats. In another corner is a bookcase and stationary washstand. The room was designed for especial comfort of ladies, who have always claimed men had the best of it when travelling. The usual smoking apartment, however, is at the opposite end of the car.

The dining cars are operated by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, and especial attention is given to the menu. Every delicacy is served in season, and the service is unsurpassed.

In addition to the already perfect service of "Royal Blue Trains" mentioned above, there will be put into service May 15 a "Royal Limited" train, which will leave New York at 1.00 P. M., making the run to Washington in FIVE hours. Returning, the "Royal Limited will leave Washington at 3.00 P. M., arriving New York at 8.10 P M. The "Royal Blue Line" will then boast of three trains which make this extraordinary fast time between Washington and New York, which has never been attained by any other line. The "Royal Blue Trains" between Baltimore and Washington make the run in FORTY-FIVE MINUTES—the fastest regular service ever attained between the two cities.

The terminal at New York City is the most convenient for all points in Greater New York. Passengers can land at South Ferry (Whitehall Terminal), where, under the same roof, connection is made with the elevated lines of the second, Third, Sixth and Ninth Avenues, and the Broadway, Lexington and Columbus Avenue Cables. All the Brooklyn Ferries also start from this point, and by taking

SCHOOL OF PRINTING.

We would respectfullly call our readers' attention to a new field of lador that THE BEE has inaugurated at its office, 1109 I street, N. W.—a School of Printing for colored youths. It is the intention of the management that any who may avail themselves of the advantages of this schoo., shall receive a complete practical training in the art of printing in all its branches. The instructions will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Chase, member of the Typographical Union of this city, and who is without doubt among the best all-round printers in the country. Our facilities will be augmented by an entire new printing outfit, including all the latest styles of type, job presses and cylinder press, which will give pupils a chance to be up-to-date in the trade. In this connection we would ask our patrons to send in their orders for job work of any kind, as we will now be able to fill all orders from the smallest visiting card to the largest poster, and promise that our prices and work will compare favorably with those of any firm in the city.

Any young man desiring a trade will do well to write us for terms, etc., or call at this office and look over the establishment. The school will open on July 26th, and those desiring tuition will do well to inquire at once, as only a limited number can of necessity be accommodated. For information, terms, etc., Address, W. Calvin Chase, Manager Bee School of Printing.

Thanking you for past favors, and feeling assured of your support in this new endeavor, we are yours, THE BEE.

J.C.—A loud and boisterous person is never known to make a good teacher. Teachers are supposed model for their pupils. refined lady will act the same, matters not where he may go.

Lena:—No, I don't approve of any one being an old maid on account of good salary." If you are economical, I see no reason why you cannot live comfortably on $60 per month. From what you say, I think he will make a good provider.

Estelle:—Think not of position. 'Tis better to wed for love than riches.

W. C.—Do your duty as near as possible. Angels cannot do more.

Girls:—Promises are easily broken. He man who continues to make promises, simply to please, and does not keep any, is a knave. Women often cause men to be knaves by their silly way of showing their devotion to them. After all, man is but an animal. He likes to seek and not to be sought after. Girls beware.

Education softens the brain of a fool and turns many a silly person crazy.

Reader:—Don't borrow this paper from your neighbor and then wonder why we have'nt a colored daily.

Many of my dear girls are returning from their vacation. Some of you have been a little reckless, I know, simply because you have been out of my sight, or the view of your would-be friends. The fact should be well cherished that good manners are the same the world over and while you may think that we could not see you, there were others."

Only the guilty take offense at things said that are not meant to be personal. The person who takes everything to himself must naturally be guilty.

Subscriber:—Patronize those who advertise in this paper. They are helping us in getting a daily.

Graduate:—The new building will call for several teachers, also there will be several higher grades added to some of the northeast schools, which will make several vacancies. I hardly think that sewing will be taught in the kindergarten by a special teacher. Many changes are expected.

Nettie:—An obedient daughter will do nothing without her mother's permission and sanction. If a young man should ask the previlege of calling, she should by all means consult your mother.

You cannot learn deportment by rote; it comes out of the man himself. We are among well bred people and keep your eyes open, by doing so you will learn more than you would by reading books on "good manners".

Law and medicine as professions, are quite the fad among the ladies as well as men. I am decidedly opposed to it for the former. All arguments go to law to settle their differences and women are naturally too nervous to make good physicians.

Fred:—The wisest age for marriage depends upon the young man. The very earliest should be twenty-five years, though thirty is better.

Every girl in the business world should be sedate, refine and lady-like and should not consider her own reputation, but the reputation of all other working-women, and not allow herself to be anything but thoughtful of appearance and results.

Visitor:—You laugh entirely too much at nothing. It is silly to laugh except something amuses you. The person who continues to grin is either a fool or a knave. Read more and you will then have something to talk about.

Addie:—When a lady is introduced to a person at her own home, it is quite the proper thing for her to extend her hand. It is a breach of etiquette to shake hands in the street.

Allie:—There is no harm for young ladies to go to the theatre alone, especially when escorts are so triffling as to be beholding to any man. Go alone when you cannot better your condition.

A. M.—Never condemn other people for that of which you are guilty. I have seen too much of that Susie:—put on colors that are becoming to you. Don't wear a dress to become others that will not look well on you.

Ollie: Always respect honesty. It will pay in the long run. Too much familiarity will often lead to disrespect.

Clerk:—The word "gent" is not, sanctioned as proper in any correspondence. A letter to a business man should begin with "Messrs.——Gentlemen."

To retain your position, you should be honest in thoughts as well as in deeds. Do not waste the time that belongs to your employer.

Scout:—Men are peculiar being. They often mistake pleasant manners for familiarity.

Once securing a love for good books, no greater punishment will be known than to be thrown into bad company.

Ed.—When selfishness becomes established in any family love hops out, and you might as well prepare yourself for the disagreeable little things which break up many a comfortable home.

No honest person will indulge in dishonorable generosities.

SECRET ORDERS.

A Masonic Temple of Cuaios, in carefully guarded rooms of an imposing structure 6th Avenue and 23rd street, N. Y., are preserved rare relics of by gone ages, works of arts and priceless curios. These rareties are to be found in the Masonic Temple. The temple itself is one of the most interesting objects in New York, for instance, the massive bronzed pillers at the enterance excites curiosty. The statue of silence, the richly emblazoned coat of arms of the masonic fraternity and other things are to be seen. On the floor above the Grand Lodge are the Library and Reading Room and Museum.

In the Library there books and records which have no duplicate in this country, one of the books was printed in 1604 and gives a description of King Solomon's Temple, among other curiosities is found the gold trowel of Benj. Franklin while master of the lodge in Pa., and other things of interest,

The women masons whom we made mention of during the last few months have been of much assistance during the recent war. They have been visiting the homes and doing for the families of the soldiers. They wear a red cross with a white circle, which hangs from a triangle and compass. They also wear a small blue enamel trowel pin with Isis in gold letters upon it. This women lodge has been promised a charter and ritual from the Scottish Grand Lodge of France.

Bro. Waller of No. 3, has been away on an extended trip, after the session at Philadelphia. He visited New York, Coney Island and other places of interest. He was away ten days.

Bro. Saunders of No. 5, has also been away. He had a good time with the boys.

The M. W. N. G. Lodge of Compack Masons, will meet at Columbus, Ohio, next month. Some people think that the Compacks are dead, but they are mistaken, they are gaining each year.

Relative to women masons, in Mexico, there are lodges that make women and the women are elevated as high as 14° A. A. S. R.

The masons of the upper degreess of Alexandria, Va., October 9th, will dedecate the Shaw Indrustrial Hall of the John Hay School, under the auspices of the Lodge of Perfection. Secretary-General D. F. Sevill and his lieutenents have been invited to be present and assist which they expect to do so.

It is bad policy to try to kill out good people for those that cannot toe the mark. As we have said before men who don't know cannot in this day and time, lead with any degree of success—again no organization can prosper, these facts will carry out the principles of the platform upon which it is based—we rest here

Watch the BEE for the simple reason, some very interesting matters will appear.
